Compact Fluorescent Lamps (CFLs)

Energy Facts

- Approximately 40% of the energy that we use today for generating electricity comes from burning coal.
- Energy consumed at home can create twice the amount of greenhouse gases than the average car.
- Lighting accounts for about 20% of the average household's electricity bill.
- Replacing inefficient incandescent bulbs with CFLs can save money, conserve energy, and reduce pollution.

CFLs ...

- use 75% less energy than incandescent bulbs.
- save $30 in energy costs over each bulb's lifetime.
- last up to 10 times as long as incandescent bulbs.
- reduce emission of pollutants such as mercury, carbon dioxide, sulfur dioxide, and nitrogen oxide when compared with the use of incandescent bulbs.

Due to the small amount of mercury that CFLs contain they should be properly disposed of, ideally recycled.

Go to focusonenergy.com to find a retailer near you that accepts CFLs. Select 'Residential', 'Lighting', 'CFL Recycling' and then 'Retailer Search'.

Visit www.epa.gov/bulbrecycling for more information.

See reverse for retailers in Milwaukee accepting residential bulbs.
